Centre for Radiology
Department of Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology
(Head of Department: Prof. Dr. W. A. Kaiser)
Section of Paediatric Radiology
(Head of Section: Prof. Dr. H.-J. Mentzel)

The University Hospital of Jena meets with 1,400 beds and more than 4,500 employees the claims of basic, normal and maximum medical care. The Section of Paediatric Radiology supplies young patients with all contemporary imaging treatments. You will find perfect conditions in a cooperative working atmosphere with excellent technical examination possibilities at modern ultrasound and x-ray devices. The Department operates four 1.5, one 3.0 Tesla MR-tomograph and two 64-lines-computer tomographs. We offer a miscellaneous interdisciplinary work with a wide spectrum of imaging methods. The Head of Section is authorized for the complete residency training in the specialty Paediatric Radiology and is highest level instructor of the German Society of Ultrasound in Medicine (specialty Paediatric Radiology).

The Section of Paediatric Radiology (Head of Section: Prof. Dr. H.-J. Mentzel) offers with immediate effect the position of a

Senior Paediatric Radiologist (Oberarzt)

We offer:
• Clinically oriented diagnostics in paediatric radiology of all organic systems (including CNS)
• Wide spread offer for scientific research including the possibility to habilitate

We search:
• Experience in paediatric radiology, paediatrics or paediatric surgery
• Interest in the unconventional use of high end imaging treatments and their further development for children and adolescents
• gute Deutschkenntnisse

Salary will be paid according to TV-Ä (German university pay scale).

Jena is a traditional, family friendly university city in the green heart of Germany offering a high quality of life.

For further questions please contact our senior paediatric radiologist Dr. Martin Stenzel (martin.stenzel@med.uni-jena.de) or our secretariat (anne.fischer@med.uni-jena.de) and visit our website (http://www.kinderradiologie.uniklinikum-jena.de).

Please send your application referring to the registration number 145/2011 to

Universitätsklinikum Jena
Geschäftsbereich Personalmanagement
07740 Jena

GERMANY